[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 9.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

Paris Completely Invested.

VERSAILLES, May 9.—A Communal decree fixes the price of bread at 50 centimes per kilogramme.

Col. Weisel was killed at the capture of Issy. Gen. Dowbrowski is expected to assume chief command of the troops of the Commune. A gunboat belonging to the Commune has been disabled. Fort Vanvres is in extremity. The investment of Paris from Gennevilliers to Issy is complete. A general assault imminent.

Birth of a Russian Prince.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 9.—The Grand Duchess Maria Ferdorowna, wife of the Czarovitch, Crown Prince of Russia, gave birth to a son to-day.

The English Parliament.

LONDON, May 9.—In the House of Lords this evening, a bill was introduced providing for the confederation of the Leward Islands in the West Indies.

In the House of Commons, Viscount Enfield, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, announced the receipt of a cable dispatch from Earl De Gray, advising the Government that the treaty between the American and British Governments had been signed by the High Commission at Washington, but said he was unable to disclose its conditions.

Miall, member for Bradford, moved for the disestablishment of the Church of England and supported the motion in a speech of marked ability and great eloquence.

Henry Austin Bruce, Home Secretary, disputed the motion that the disestablishment of the English Church was a corollary to that of the Church of Ireland. He expressed the opinion that the agitation of the question was untimely.

Roundell Palmer defended the Church of England from assault.

Oldem, member for Huddersfield, advocated the resolutions. He referred to the prosperity of the Episcopal Church in America as an argument for the disestablishment of the Church of England.

Disraeli thought France, not America, should be looked to for proper example. He implored the House to disregard the advice of philosophers and doctrinarics who were constantly assailing the Church. He believed a plebiscitum would confirm the church in its position.

Gladstone sustained the views of Disraeli and brought forward fresh arguments in favor of the present established Church. Upon the division of the House, there was a majority of 285 against the resolutions.

The Italian Parliamnnt.

FLORENCE, May 9.—The Italian Chamber of Deputies has passed the Papal guarantee bill after agreeing to all the modifications of the Senate.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Bancroft Resigns.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—It is reported that Bancroft has resigned his post as Ambassador of the United States to the German Empire; cause, not stated.

EASTERN STATES.

Flood in the Potomac River.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Information received from Harper's Ferry to the 8th inst., says the freshet was very high there. All temporary bridges on the Winchester and Potomac branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are weighed down with the cars loaded with coal to keep them from washing away. Water receding slowly, and by night the amount of damage will be discoverable. Trains are stopped on the Winchester and Potomac branch. A large body of water is passing down through Hall's Island property on the Shenandoah, and fears are entertained that it will do serious damage. Temporary supports under railroad bridges across the Potomac were knocked away by driftwood, and travel across them is suspended.

Exposure of Democratic Rascality in Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 9.—The Legislative committee who are examining the vote of the Fourth Ward, spent the day in taking affidavits of men who voted for Jewell. This evening at time of adjournment the number of these affidavits reached 560, wanting only 19 of the number claimed for Jewell in that ward. It is generally conceded that this practically settles the dispute, and the Legislature will find, on report of the committee, that Jewell has been legally elected Governor.

Objection in New Brunswick to the Treaty.

ST. JOHNS, May 9.—The fishing provisions of the treaty at Washington are strongly condemned here. Hopes are entertained that they will not be ratified by the Canadian Parliament.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—About 20 members of the Chamber of Commerce finally met last night to hear the annual report of the President, after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Robert B. Swain; 1st Vice President, C. Adolph Low; 2d Vice President, William T. Coleman; Trustees, Wm. F. Babcock, Horace Davis, J. T. Dean, Albert Dibble, Jno. DeFremery, Louis Sachs, I. W. Raymond, C. A. Duisenberg, J. C. Merrill, W. W. Montague, James Otis and J. H. Reddington.

The first artists reception under the auspices of the San Francisco Art Associaton, closed last evening with recitations of music and a recherche collation. Nearly a thousand people were present in the course of the evening.

The formal objection of the widow of the late Horace Hawes to the probate of his will on the ground of his being insane, notice of the drawing up of which was telegraphed some days since, has been filed in the Probate Court, and the hearing has been set for the 18th inst.

James M. Mason.

The following account of this man is furnished by a letter to the Chicago Tribune. His death has occurred since the letter was written:

James M. Mason, who was born on Analoston Island, opposite Georgetown, a part of the District of Columbia, in the Potomac River, seventy-three years ago, lives now three miles west of Alexandria, upon a little farm of 200 acres, demented in mind, perishing in body. He will not live, according to the best advices, above one year, and he spends his whole time sitting in a large arm-chair, watching his chickens and pigs, and dictating letters to his eldest daughter, who acts as his amanuensis. Mason is possessed of just sufficient means to relieve his closing years from want. He is too old and infirm to have anything further to say about public affairs, although his memory is tolerably good. What a life has this man passed through? He graduated in Philadelphia during the administration of Monroe, and was a familiar character in the Virginia House of Delegates during the whole of Jackson's Administration. Thirty-five years ago he came to Congress, and twenty-four years ago came to the United States Senate, which he never left until the rebellion broke out, having preceded Charles Sumner as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. The latter days of his public life we know well enough. How he was the most systematic brow-beater of Northern men in Federal councils, always alluding to Charles Sumner and others as men of "too common birth to justify a reply," and he went abroad to England as the most superserviceable admirer of monarchical forms of government which even the rebel cause could despatch across the sea. One looks around almost in despair to find something good to say about the old man of three score and thirteen.

The Cincinnati Commercial says "the Tweed and Sweeny ring of New York will either dictate the Presidential nomination of the Democracy, or they will raise a tremendous rumpus in the party."

CURRENT NOTES.

An armistice between Spain and the South American Republics on the Pacific has been arranged. The war it has suspended has been for years a very pacific affair. If all wars were of the same mild nature, they would be something more than a trifle better than an average peace.

The estimated expenses of the British army for the ensuing year, including those incurred by the abolition of the purchase system, are £35,000,000. The receipts are expected to reach £60,000,000. The revenue last year was two and a third million pounds sterling in excess of estimates, and the expenses fell a half million below the estimates. The budget has been adopted by a large majority.

Acts of violence continue to be reported from the South. A Methodist minister in Alabama has written a letter to a member of Congress from that State, saying that he is fully persuaded he cannot prosecute his labors in the State, and escape assassination. The British Minister, Mr. Thornton, having learned that an English school-teacher had been whipped in Alabama, has ordered an investigation, and will bring the matter before the authorities for redress.

Up to the 30th of November last, the Central Pacific Railroad Company had disposed of 127,637½ acres of the lands granted to it by the Government. The average price paid the company for this land was $2.22½ per acre, or a total of $284,221. Of this last amount, $125,145 was paid down, and the remainder, $159,106 was secured by mortgage on the land sold. About two months ago, the Union Pacific published its annual statement, which showed that the company had disposed of 292,883 acres of the land granted to it, or rather more than twice the number of acres sold by the Central Pacific Company.

The train from San Francisco for the East on the 27th ult. contained among its freight over $500,000 of Japanese silkworm eggs, recently imported from Japan. It will be remembered that these eggs were contracted for in Japan by agents of French houses, and that the war compelled the houses through financial embarrassments, to annul all engagements. The Japanese merchants, owners of the eggs, purchased a vessel and shipped the stock on hand to San Francisco. Telegraphic communication with Europe was had, and through this agency the merchants secured a market in Europe—Genoa, Marseilles and other prominent places.

PERSONAL NOTES.

The Eighth Collection District of New York may justly be called the millionaires' district. Forty men therein have paid income taxes on over $100,000 for the year 1870, among them being A. T. Stewart, $1,537,295; E. S. Higgings, $378,530; B. G. Arnold, $346,200; Moses Taylor, $292,203; Peter Goelet, $263,629; James Gordon Bennett, $261,000; and so on through a list including Rufus Hatch, Robert Bonner, A. S. Hatch, Henry Clews, Paran Stevens, L. Delmonico, Peter Cooper, John J. Cisco and Jesse Seligman.

William Cullen Bryant, though 76 years old, still retains all his bodily powers, without the usual infirmities of old age. His temperate habits have undoubtedly largely contributed to his excellent condition. He rises about 5 or 5:30 o'clock and begins a series of exercises designed to expand the chest, and to call into action all the muscles. This exercise he continues for about an hour. He eats no meat at breakfast, and entirely eschews tea and coffee. He usually, when in town, walks to the office of the New York Post, about three miles, and returns. He denies that he writes verses under the effects of any stimulant.

Dr. Dollinger, the eminent German theologian, and church historian, has been excommunicated by the Pope for finally refusing to accept the dogma of Papal infallibility. The Bishop of Munich had given him ten days in which to give in his adhesion to the doctrine, but he absolutely refused, giving as his reasons that the dogma is in opposition to the Scriptures, the interpretation of the Fathers, the beliefs and traditions of the Roman Catholic Church; that it is incompatible with the constitutions of several European States, and will result in the repression of men's intellectual activity, and a temporal no less than a spiritual terrorism. Dr. Dollinger is about 73 years of age, and is reputed to be one of the ablest of living theologians and church historians, and has always favored the separation of Church and State. There has been much comment on this affair both in Europe and America.

The day for the execution of Bulloff is fixed as the 18th of May—only a few days hence,—yet the only concern he manifests as his end approaches, is lest his book—a treatise on philology—should not have justice done to its merits when he is gone. He has lately been corresponding with Professor Seele, of Amherst, on this subject, and not long since was visited by Professor Mather of the same college, to whom he expressed the deep feeling he has on this point. He desired the Professor to test his knowledge of Greek, and in conversation showed a very remarkable familiarity with Greek authors, particularly Xenophon and Homer, seeming to know by heart nearly all of Xenophon's Memorabilia in the original. He is certainly one of the most extraordinary instances on record of great scholastic attainments, combined with a life of low and desperate criminality. There is no chance that his sentence will be reprieved or extended, and every indication that his present temper of mind will continue till death.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The New York Tribune says: "Every power of the Government must be put forth to protect peaceful citizens in their constitutional rights. If this is not done, there is no use in keeping up the pretense of a Government."

The Chicago Tribune says: "The municipal elections everywhere this spring have been hard on the Democrats. The public seem to be greatly averse to entrusting the municipal governments in the hands of Democrats, which, undoubtedly, is occasioned by the maladministration in New York, where their power is supreme."

The Huntsville (Ala.) Item says that the South "will not forgive the robbery of four thousand millions of dollars, property guaranteed to her by the Constitution of the United States." What property? Property in slaves, of course. But when Senator Morton says that the Southern Democracy intend to demand restitution in money for that pretended property, does he, after all, hit wide of the mark?

The Boston Journal says Senator Morton "has evidently got it fixed in his head that whatever is to be done in this era for the good of the country must and will be done by the Republican party, and that nothing but evil can come from Democratic ascendency. Hence, he consistently fights the Democracy on all occasions, and justifies the past progress and prophesies the future triumphs of the Republicans."

It is a sure indication that Congress has done something really creditable when the whole opposition set up one continuous howl against it. A review of the legislation since 1861 will confirm this. Commencing with the raising of troops "to subjugate our Southern fellow-citizens" down to the "enforcement act," the howl over each step taken to preserve the Union has been just as earnest and persistent as it is to-day over the last named enactment. The Democracy boast of their devotion to the Union in one breath, and in the very next denounce all efforts to preserve that Union; legislation to suppress the murderous Ku Klux is designated as a scheme to defeat the Democratic party in 1872; an attempt to protect Union men is denounced as an effort to deprive Democrats of their rights; and so it is with every movement made in good faith by the dominant party to protect the country and maintain the rights of the people.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

Capture of Issy.

VERSAILLES, May 10.—One hundred and twenty nine cannon were captured at Issy. Fifty arrived here; also, ammunition, provisions, and brandy infused with tobacco. The latter made wounds of drinkers fatal. The capture of Issy terrorizes the Parisians. The battery of Mont Clandot continues firing furiously, and the Federals reply feebly. The story that the garrison of Issy escaped is false. The government approaches the enciente, surely. The official journals of Paris report that the Issy garrison escaped. Rossel complains to the Commune of lack of support. He says two courses are open, to break through the obstacles or retire. The former is impossible; we must, therefore, retire to save our honor.

Progress of the Government Forces.

LONDON, May 10.—The News' correspondent says a sharp engagement took place near the bridge of Neuilly. The Communists were beaten. The breach is expected to be practicable by next week.

PARIS, May 9.—There has been no cannonade since the 7th. The Nationals and partisans of the Commune are discouraged. It is rumored that there is serious dissension between Rossel and the Committee of Safety of the Commune. Neuilly and Point de Jour are bombarded from Mount Rouge and Brimbion. The population are all panic stricken.

On Monday night the insurgents became convinced of the impossibility of holding Fort Issy and began to evacuate by way of Vanvres to escape the fire of the enemy. The cannonade became fearful, and caused an explosion in Issy, and a great fire at Vanvres. Meanwhile the insurgents attempted to attack the Versaillists in the direction of Neuilly, but were mowed down by the Government mitrailleuses. Great slaughter was caused, and the survivors made a rapid retreat.

Rossel refuses the dictatorship and accuses the Commune of weakness, and complains of the troops in Issy.

Cluseret will be tried to-night.

The column in Place Vendome is to be destroyed to-night.

Thiers Government Gaining Strength.

VERSAILLES, May 9.—All Republicans are uniting. Thiers' proclamation has had a great effect.

Eight hundred thousand projectiles, chiefly shells have been taken to Fort Valerien ready for the bombardment of Paris.

The assault on the city will be made by the 4th corps, under General Douay, with 10,000 men.

Fort Vallancair is occupied by the Versaillists, and Vanvres is expected to surrender immediately.

Three hundred prisoners were taken at Fort Issy.

The Franco-German Treaty.

FRANKFORT, May 10.—A definite peace between France and Germany was signed at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The London Times on the Washington Treaty.

LONDON, May 10.—The Times says England and Canada never raised the question of exclusive privileges of navigation of the St. Lawrence river. The settlement of the San Juan question is satisfactory, and the Alabama claims present the only difficulty. It doubts if the treaty will be immediately ratified by the Senate, but trusts the treaty will be a final solution of all difficulties between the two countries.

The Insurgent Commander's Views.

LONDON, May 10.—Another dispatch says Russel, in his communication to the Commune says: "I cannot endure responsibility where everybody deliberates, nobody obeys, and nothing is organized, and our guns depend on the services of a few volunteers." He complains that reinforcements are not granted; that the Commune is incapable. He therefore retires and demands a cell in Mazas.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Meeting of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Senate opened with prayer at noon. The proclamation convoking it in extraordinary session was then read, when a committee was appointed to wait upon the President and inform him that the Senate had assembled.

Four of the sub committee out of the twenty-one, heretofore appointed to examine into alleged Southern outrages, came together this morning. These four are Senators Scott, Poole, Baird and Representative Maynard. Owing to the absence of the other three members of the sub-committee, an adjournment took place until to-morrow. The sub committee is to prepare a plan of examination to a full committee.

Nominations by the President.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Joseph Belknap, to be Supervising Inspector General of steamboats; Max Woodhull, to be Assistant Secretary of Legation at London; John M. Francis of New York, to be Minister Resident to Greece. To be Consuls, J. B. Lucas, at St. Johns, Canada; A. G. Fuertes, at Corrum, Spain; C. B. Dahlgren, at San Diemas, Mexico; Joseph A. Lewis, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Mexico.

EASTERN STATES.

Another Riot in the Pennsylvania Coal Mines.

NEW YORK, May 10.—A special from Scranton, Penn., at a late hour last night says the sum total of the affray is three men severely wounded three men slightly wounded and two women hurt. The Mayor of the city and agents of the company were on the ground soon after the fight was over. There is now no sign of an immediate outbreak here again, but if laborers insist on resuming work more riots are expected. The actual strength of the new movement that has been agitated among the laborers is not sufficient to warrant any desirable results. The city is much excited over the affair. The authorities are on the watch for further movements. The news is more peaceful from Delaware and Hudson counties.

Three Men Murdered.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 10.—The bodies of three laborers were found this morning in a swamp near Briggs' shaft. During the riot yesterday, when the laborers were routed, they fled into this swamp, followed by the infuriated miners, where the three men were beaten to death.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Passed west from Ogden, J. B. White, of Rock Point, Oregon.

At a meeting of Grand Encampment I. O. O. F. at Sacramento yesterday, Lunderback, from the Committee on the State of the Order, reported on the case of Patriarch Davies vs. Vancouver Encampment No. 1 at Victoria, V. I., and recommended the adoption of the following resolution, which was agreed to:

Resolved, That the committee be discharged till further consideration of the matter.

A resolution submitted by Grand Representative Nathan Porter in relation to the above matter and suspending the issuance of a charter to said Encampment until next year, was considered and adopted.

The San Francisco Land and Loan Company have purchased half a block at Oakland, 200 feet front on Broadway, from 10th to 11th streets, for the sum of $65,000, and part of the adjoining block, 100 feet front on Broadway by 300 feet deep; also 100 feet square out of the north half of the same block, the latter fronting on 12th street, for $100,000. The Broadway half has a good brick building rented for a store thereon. These are the largest sales of Oakland real estate made for years.

The stock market is buoyant, a strong reaction being evident with considerable excitement in the Board, which nearly resulted in a fight between two brokers, one of whom gave the other what was equivalent to the lie, the latter going over to his seat to slap his face. Both parties were fined.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1871.

As to "Paying Tribute."

Some days ago the Herald published a free trade article in which the annexed remarks were made:

> Let us take one industrial pursuit—the manufacture of boots and shoes—and see whether protection benefits us in Oregon or not. Here we have no extensive factories of this character. We have not as yet sufficient surplus capital with which to engage in such pursuits, and if we had, it would be subjected to the drawback of paying higher wages for labor than is paid in the Atlantic States, or in Europe, in both of which localities large factories, backed by large capital, and employing labor at low wages, are already firmly established. * * * New England, in both these particulars, has the advantage of us, and can send her boots and shoes manufactured there, cheaper than we can do it ourselves, and hence the only advantage the people of Oregon derives from this particular protection duty, is the privilege of buying their boots and shoes from New England manufacturers, and paying, then, thirty-five per cent. more than they would be compelled to pay were no duties exacted. Now this is fun for New England, but it is no fun for the people of Oregon.

If there is any argument here it is that wages are too high in Oregon. New England, we are told, is making a great profit out of this branch of industry because wages are much lower there than here. This difference the political economy of the Herald would abolish. On the showing it makes the one great essential to prosperity here is cheaper labor. Cheaper labor would give us cheaper boots and shoes, and cheap boots and shoes is the chief end of man.

But the idea of "paying tribute to Eastern manufacturers" is what distresses such as the Herald people. In the light of their philosophy it is perfectly atrocious to "pay tribute" to American enterprise; but they are more than willing to "pay tribute" to foreign labor and capital. Suppose the duty on boots and shoes is abolished. What follows? Foreign manufacturers at once take complete possession of the American market in that line of goods. Our own manufacturers are driven from the market, and the making of boots and shoes as an American industry ceases. What next? Does one imagine that we shall then have cheaper boots and shoes? Just so soon as our own manufacturers are driven out of the field, and competition is utterly broken down, then foreign manufacturers and jobbers who have command of our market will send up the price and make us pay more for our boots and shoes than we now pay under a tariff which enables our manufacturers to keep the field and maintain a competition which keeps prices at moderate figures. Drive out the American manufacturer and let the foreigner have the market to himself; destroy the competition which keeps down the price, and the result is that we "pay tribute" continually to the foreigner. Having control of the market he will be able to make his own terms. It will be said, if the price of the foreign article goes up, the American manufacturer will resume again, and bring it down. Nothing of the kind. The foreigner will be able to defeat every effort of the American manufacturer to re-establish his business. He will temporarily undersell him, even if money is lost thereby, knowing well that the loss will be recovered fourfold as soon as competition is destroyed. If the duty on boots and shoes were repealed to-day we should pay as much hereafter on an average for those articles as we pay now. The difference would be that a great and important branch of industry would pass wholly into foreign hands, and the profits thereof, instead of going to our own people and rewarding our own labor, would go to foreign manufacturers and importers. The Herald would "pay tribute" to the capital of England without complaint; but it grieves to "pay tribute" to American labor, under a system which is building up the whole country in unexampled prosperity.

The "Reds" of American Politics.

The Albany Democrat, as leader of the movement in Oregon, in connection with the Democratic movement throughout the country to overthrow the Constitutional amendments and reverse the results of the war, refuses to abate one jot of effort or of hope. It calls out to the bold spirits of the party to come to the front, and orders timid and "conservative" souls to the rear. It is not dismayed by being seen in the company of Jeff. Davis, but rather boasts of it. If that distinguished Democrat, it declares, said in his recent speech that "it was the noble mission of the Democratic party to annul all the black amendments which have been fraudulently injected into the Constitution by Radical manipulations, then he uttered a great fact, and one that the future will surely establish."

The Southern Democratic press keeps up the battle-cry in a similar strain and at a like pitch. We find this in the Savannah Republican, the principal Democratic paper in Georgia:

> What we of the South want is the destruction of the radical regime. We insist on no particular manner of defeating that party. We only demand that the party seeking our co-operation in this great work of deliverance and liberty—as we honestly conceive it to be—shall not accept or [illegible] any of the usurpations and outrages that have been put upon the country by the common enemy. Once in power, the South, as will clearly [illegible] right, will expect the democratic party to remedy all abuses in the body politic, of whatever nature.

Many other Southern journals utter similar sentiments. In case the Democratic party succeeds the South will dictate its policy and inaugurate a new revolution. The silence of the recent address of the Democratic members of Congress in regard to the Constitutional Amendments which it is the known purpose of that party to abrogate, is significant and ominous. Some of the members insisted that a pledge should be given in the address that the party entertains no purpose to disturb the amendments. But this suggestion was rejected and the address given to the country without the pledge.

The New York Evening Post, whose fairness has so often been endorsed by Democratic authority, says of the address: "After all the earnest efforts of a few patriotic and sensible men to induce their colleagues to listen to reason, and to accept the situation as it is, they have been defeated; and the Democratic party does not accept the fifteenth amendment. Silence on this point, the one really important question before them, is equivalent to a positive declaration. Nothing that could be said is so significant as the absolute emptiness of the address on the subject of universal suffrage. To the Democrats, then, the fourteenth amendment has no existence; and they continue to stand, as they have hitherto stood, upon the platform of proscription, inequality, and aristocratic privileges. Their success, without the distinct renunciation of their antiquated views on this subject, would be but a signal for a war of races, and the re-establishment of political, if not of personal slavery."

It is obvious that the address was modified to meet the demands of the ultras,—the "Reds,"—who would not consent to any utterance of moderate views. With this avowed purpose of revolution declared to them beforehand, the American people will judge whether it would be a safe policy to elevate this party to power.

One of the Issues.

Col. Forney in a recent speech to Washington workingmen strongly stated some of the phases of the approaching contest for President. We quote the following which should be considered by every man of American ideas or sympathies:

> The Democracy will be reinforced next year by cohorts such as they did not dream of in their philosophy of 1868. They have two great treasuries from which to draw their subsidies—the treasury of the British Free-Traders in Liverpool, and the Treasury of the Democratic Free-Traders in New York. It is no figure of speech to say that, unless the Democracy can elect a Democratic President in 1872, British manufactures will go down, and the people of England will demand of their rulers higher wages, which at once enlighten and elevate. Workingmen of America! These combinations, working to a common center, will place in the hands of the Democratic party, next year, at least $10,000,000, to be wielded by men who are now shaping the legislation of New York so as to make that State secure to them, and to enable them to seize Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and even Ohio, and to wield these States to a South, consolidated in support of their policy.

Hugh N. George, Esq., a man of considerable note and prominence in politics and as an educator for several years, died yesterday morning at the Dalles. His health had been declining for some months, and as his disease was consumption his death was not wholly unexpected. He was principal of an academy in Albany for some time and subsequently undertook the profession of the law. In 1864 he was chosen one of the Presidential Electors of Oregon in favor of Lincoln. Latterly his residence has been in Yamhill county. His health failing, he went to the Dalles some weeks ago in hope of being benefitted, but sank steadily till death took place. His body will be brought from the Dalles to-day and taken to Linn county for burial.

Much comment has been called forth by the action of Dr. Dollinger, a Catholic Professor in the University of Munich, in declaring that he cannot accept the infallibility dogma. The Archbishop of Munich has excommunicated him. In reply he publishes a letter in which he states that thousands of the clergy and hundreds of thousands of the laity agree with him and find it impossible to accept the new article of faith. Since the publication of the letter forty-four out of the sixty-two Catholic Professors of the Munich University, have presented an address to Dollinger, heartily sustaining the course he has taken, and telling him to persevere in the struggle. The affair is likely to produce a serious schism in Germany.

The Southern Claims Commission now sitting at Washington limit their inquiries to cases where stores or supplies were actually taken from or furnished by loyal people for the use of the army, and do not entertain applications to compensate for damages and depredations suffered during the occupancy of their neighborhoods by troops during the war.

OREGON.

A steam engine is used as motive power on the penitentiary brickyard. Two million of brick will be made at that institution this season.

The Jacksonville Sentinel, of the 6th instant, says that there is not snow enough between Goose Lake valley and Link river to interfere with travel.

The Statesman relates the doors of the Commercial Hotel in Salem are being arranged so that "gentlemen" cannot come into the dining room by the back way, and then "smuggle themselves" out after a square meal. Salem habits are "peculiar."

W. R. Dunbar, Esq., member of the Legislature from Marion county, writes to the Statesman that there are flagrant errors in the House Journal of the late session. He says that he is on the record there as voting for the Pilot bill which works such a hardship on the shipping interests of the State, when, in fact, he voted against it. He says that Mr. Quimby of this county is classed as voting "Aye" on the Swamp Land bill, though he certainly voted "No." There are many such errors in the Journal.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Olympia Transcript reports that lands on the lower Chehalis river are settling up rapidly.

The large vessel on the stocks at Port Madison is to be launched in a few days. She is the largest vessel ever built on the coast.

In pursuance of an act of Congress, the Board of Commissioners of Walla Walla county, W. T., have agreed to submit to the people of the county the following proposition, to be voted upon the 20th day of June next: To aid in the construction of a railroad from Walla Walla city to Wallula, the county of Walla Walla agrees to pay for a period of twenty years, interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum upon the sum of $200,000.

The special session of the Dakota Legislature has been brought to a close very abruptly. Some very important business had just been finished, when a dispatch was received from Secretary Fish as follows: "The Attorney General is of opinion that a special session is unauthorized." By a mistake of some one, this dispatch as first received, read "authorized," and before the correction was made, an important bill was passed and signed by the Governor. Congress is expected to legalize the action.

To Marry a Princess does not Make a Man a Prince.

Describing the scene at the dedication of the Royal Albert Hall, in London, the New York Tribune correspondent says:

> The Queen came at 12:30. What the programme said should be done was done, the Prince of Wales and the rest of the committee receiving her Majesty as she descended from her carriage, and escorting her to the door, through which the great multitude of hushed spectators were waiting to see her appear. As she entered, the whole audience rose, and organ and orchestra broke out together in the strains of the national anthem. For a moment the Queen halted on the upper step and just within the curtained doorway, courtesying low to the silent homage which the great audience was paying. Then she advanced, conducted by the Prince of Wales, quite slowly down the center of the hall between the lines of yeomen. She wore, as she always wears, a black dress; this time a plain mourning dress of black silk, with black bonnet and gloves. The Princess of Wales followed in a robe of ruby colored velvet, and bonnet of the same. Her husband came as Colonel of hussars, in a jacket laced and frogged as only hussar jackets in this world are, not suiting his stout figure. The Princess was accompanied by the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, in what looked like an Austrian cavalry uniform, all white. The Princess of Wales is pretty and popular, but to-day most eyes are turned on the figure that follows, all clad in white silk, with veil and bonnet of white, and a wreath of orange blossoms about her forehead. It is the bride of last week, the Princess Louise, Marchioness of Lorne, by whose side walks her brother, Prince Arthur, not her husband. For to marry a Princess does not make a man a Prince, and royal etiquette thinks nothing of putting asunder bride and bridegroom. The Marquis, looking more boyish than ever, walks some ranks behind his wife, stands apart from her when they have reached the dais, and afterward, when the whole party go up to their boxes, cannot even sit in the same box with her. Nobody seems to be troubled about it, yet there in that cabinet-box is that proud Duke of Argyll looking down on the curious scene, and one would really like to know what he thinks of the social law that ranks his son so far below his son's wife.

DR. DOELINGER.—Dr. Ignatius Doelinger, who refused to accept the definition of the Vatican Council in reference to the infallibility of the Pope, is one of the Professors of the University of Munich. He is considered a great scholar, and especially in ecclesiastical history. When the Archbishop of Munich, his ordinary, called on him for his adhesion to the decree, he asked for more time for deliberation, which was accorded to him, but before the allotted time expired he sent a refusal. His separation from the Catholic Church followed as a matter of course.

IMPORTANT TO SUFFERERS FROM NERVOUS EXCITEMENT.—A gentleman residing in Grammercy Place, New York, (whose name it would not be proper to mention), was suffering terribly about three weeks ago from the effects of dissipation. He could not sleep, vomited frequently, was tormented by horrible fancies, and could not keep a limb still. Opiates made him worse. While in this condition he was visited by a friend, who advised him to try PLANTATION BITTERS as an anodyne, stomachic and tonic. "No use," said the sick man, despondingly; "nothing will save me. I'm a gone case." "Pshaw!" said his friend, "you're worth forty dead men, yet! I'm going to doctor you now." So saying, he put on his hat and going to the nearest druggist', presently returned with a bottle of Bitters, of which he administered a dose forthwith. It had a soothing, cheering, tranquilizing effect. For a week thereafter the gentleman continued to take the tonic regularly, according to the directions, and at the end of that time was able to return to business in sound health and with a clear intellect. This information is furnished by Alexander T. Mitthrom, of Morrisania, who will confirm it if addressed by mail.

MATTERS AT KALAMA.—We have a letter [illegible] a laboring man who went to Kalama to get w[illegible] and concluding not to invest in that way [illegible] back to this city. We learn from his letter [illegible] common laborers are offered [illegible] per day in [illegible] rency, without board or lodging. [illegible] items cost the laborer $ [illegible] per week in coin [illegible] laborer would thus have $ [illegible] week's work—better than starving [illegible] surely lucrative. The writer found about [illegible] Europe and fifty men idle and waiting to g[illegible] chance to work. The railroad people have [illegible] cattle ready for use, [illegible] white men at work upon the grade, about [illegible] on the pile drivers, and about [illegible] were at work upon the wharf. We [illegible] tion of the writer that he did not [illegible] good place for the production of [illegible] for the laboring man.

THE STEAMER CONSTANTINE.—The [illegible] arrived yesterday morning, is an iron [illegible] the under 320 tons burthen. Her propulsion [illegible] by screw. She stands about as high out of water as the propeller California, but is [illegible] ter of equal tonnage. She looks new [illegible] very neat. Her cabin affords exce[illegible] dations for passengers—for at least [illegible] can get staterooms. Being [illegible] passenger capacity is, of course [illegible] steerage accommodations are [illegible] she arrived here within [illegible] Oriflamme is sufficient proof [illegible] going vessel, for a propeller [illegible] come in as soon as she [illegible] the bar, as did the Oriflamme [illegible] been only about nine hours [illegible] Of her officers, a card from [illegible] gers, published in another place [illegible]

PASSENGER ARRIVALS.—Wit[illegible] days, the total number of passen[illegible] ocean steamers is 724. The [illegible] brought 358, the Oriflamme [illegible] and the Constantine 122 [illegible] away Tuesday evening [illegible] whom we know were our citizens [illegible] A few of the arrivals [illegible] our own people, and a few others [illegible] came on business or merely to [illegible] out any definite intention of [illegible] think it a safe calculation that [illegible] gained in these three days not less than [illegible] permanent settlers, by steamer alone [illegible] real estate men, who is perhaps as we[illegible] any man about such matters, states [illegible] that the State is receiving accessions [illegible] people per month.

PORTLAND LIBRARY.—The following new books are just received by steamer: Annals of Oxford, two volumes, by John Cordy Jeaffreson, [illegible] Memoirs of the Life [illegible] Wade Howe, [illegible] with [illegible] by Adam [illegible] Life of the Author, by [illegible] sorities of Women [illegible] by Mrs. Jameson [illegible] with illustrations, Anna Cora [illegible] Mechanism in Thoughts [illegible] Wendell Holmes. Presented [illegible] Dr. S. Parker, a new set of [illegible]

SPECIAL INVITATION.—The Convention [illegible] semble in the Presbyterian Church [illegible] at 7:30, and to last through Friday [illegible] is for everybody—parents, teach[illegible] young people, are all cordially invited [illegible] are interested in the work of religio[illegible] the promotion of Bible study and [illegible] ment of Home as a school of piety [illegible] tend the sessions of this Convention. [illegible] Phillips, of New York, "The Sweet Singer [illegible] wide fame, will conduct the music during [illegible] sessions of the Convention. [illegible] ALL." Preparatory prayer meeting in the Presbyterian Church to-day at 4 P. M.

A NEW LINE OF BUSINESS.—The occupations of this city are growing more and more [illegible] The last one added is that of professional [illegible] porter. Some one—we presume it to be [illegible] & Lakin—has made a considerable [illegible] bulletin boards and stationed them at [illegible] conspicuous places, on which to post [illegible] and advertisements as they may be [illegible] put up. An application was made by these par[illegible] ties to the Common Council last week for the [illegible] clusive right to erect bulletin boards and to [illegible] thereon, but as all lines of business ought to [illegible] left free to competition, we reckon the request will hardly be granted.

HIGH WATER.—The river has risen by [illegible] water from the Columbia, nearly a foot with[illegible] the last twenty-four hours. It is already over [illegible] portion of the flat in front of East Portland [illegible] is just over the low portions of the O. S. N. [illegible] and the steamship dock. There is some prosp[illegible] that the building of Holladay's dock at Nor[illegible] Portland, will be soon interrupted, and the [illegible] is, therefore, being pushed with all the force that can be employed at it. It will not be long [illegible] all the lower stories of the wharves and the base[illegible] ments of stores along the river front will have [illegible] be evacuated.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—This court was engaged the entire day in the trial of [illegible] vs. R. H. Snow. The taking of testimony was concluded and the argument was begun. Logan, Fredenrich and Humason, for plaintiff; [illegible] Dolph for defendant.

The court adjourned till 10 A. M. to-day.

STEAMERS TO SAIL.—The N. P. T. Co.'s steamship California will sail for Puget Sound and Victoria, at 4 o'clock, P. M., Thursday. The Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco at [illegible] on Saturday, and the opposition steamer [illegible] take will sail the same day.

GOING TO THE SOUND COUNTRY.—A considerable number of people are now going to the Puget Sound country to settle. The steamer [illegible] Monticello [illegible] yesterday about [illegible] and a good many others are going to-day.

MAN BADLY HURT.—A [illegible] named [illegible] Wilson was brought up from [illegible] for surgical aid. [illegible] by getting it caught [illegible] mill. He was [illegible]

LIVING AT KALAMA.—We have a letter from a laboring man who went to Kalama to get work, and not to invest in that way, came to this city. We learn from his letter that laborers are offered $2 per day in currency, without board or lodging. The latter cost the laborer $7 per week in coin. The laborer would thus have $3 85 in coin left for his week's work—better than starving, but not excessively lucrative. The writer found about one hundred and fifty men idle and waiting to get a chance to work. The railroad people have about for use; about 150 Chinamen and at work upon the grade; about 40 drivers, and about a dozen carpenters up at the wharf. We judge from the writer that he did not think Kalama a place for the production of ecstatic delights man.

THE CONSTANTINE.—This vessel which day morning, is an iron hull of a 420 tons burthen. Her propulsion is about as high out of water the California, but is not so long, tonnage. She looks new, showy and Her cabin affords excellent accommodations for passengers—for at least as many as get staterooms. Being a smaller vessel her capacity is, of course, limited. Her accommodations are also good. That here within thirteen hours of the sufficient proof that she is a fast vessel, for a propeller. Could she have as soon as she arrived at did the Oriflamme, she would have about nine hours behind that vessel. a card from some of the passengers in another place, speaks well.

ARRIVALS.—Within the last three total number of passengers arriving by is 724. The John L. Stephens, the California 32, the Oriflamme the Constantine 122. The Stephens took evening 49, about one-half of were our citizens, and who are to of the arrivals were, of course, and a few others were people who or merely to look around, with intention of staying; but we calculation that the State has three days not less than 500 per by steamer alone. One of our men, who is perhaps as well posted as about such matters, states his opinion State is receiving accessions of 1,000 month.

LIBRARY.—The following new books received by steamer: Annals of Oxford, by John Cordy Geaffreson, B. A.; the Life and Services of the Rt. Potter, D. D. L. L. D., by M. A. De D. Presented to the Library by Parker, a new set of draughtsmen.

All who in the work of religious education, promotion of Bible study and the improvement of Home as a school of piety, should attend the sessions of this Convention. Phillip of New York, "The Sweet Singer" of will conduct the music during all the of the Convention. COME ONE! COME! Preparatory prayer meeting in the Pres- Church to-day at 4 P. M.

LINE OF BUSINESS.—The occupations city are growing more and more numerous. has one added is that of professional bill- Some one—we presume it to be Dormer has made a considerable number of boards and stationed them at various places, on which to post such bills as they may be employed to An application was made by these parties to the Common Council last week for the exclusive right to erect bulletin boards and to post but as all lines of business ought to be to competition, we reckon the request be granted.

Co.'s ship dock. There is some prospect the of Holladay's dock at North will be soon interrupted, and that work being pushed with all the force that employed at it. It will not be long till stories of the wharves and the basements of stores along the river front, will have to PERSONAL.

Mr. C. C. Way, formerly of Ellington, Iowa, and who is now connected with the firm of Messrs. Stitzel & Upton, has just returned from a two days' trip to Washington and Yamhill counties. While gone he concluded the sale of two fine farms—one in Yamhill county near Wapato Lake, belonging to John J. Garrish, Esq, the other near Forest Grove, belonging to Mr. L. W. Harger. Mr. Way brings with him a business experience in the real estate line that money cannot purchase, having made the sale of lands his business for a number of years in the State of Iowa. He arrived here some ten days ago an entire stranger, has made five trips to Washington and Yamhill counties, and negotiated sales to the amount of twenty thousand dollars in farming lands.

Mr. Lyman Chittenden, Deputy Postmaster, we regret to learn, has been confined to his residence by illness, some days. The absence of "Chitt" is felt by all who have intercourse with that public necessary—the Postoffice.

Mr. C. Bills, we hear, has arrived at San Francisco, on his way home, and will come up on the next steamer.

The Pixley Sisters, with a dramatic and variety troupe, will leave in a day or two for the country east of the mountains, intending to play at the Dalles, Walla Walla, Boise, and to go through to Salt Lake before returning here.

COMPLIMENTARY RESOLUTIONS.

A Strange Story

A WOMAN KILLS A MAN AT HIS REQUEST—HER CONFESSION

The Omaha Republican of the 19th ult tells the following strange story of the death of a man who was known in this city some little time ago

Last night we were summoned to listen to one of the saddest stories ever told But a few days since we announced the death of Daniel E Hedden by his own hand We had every reason to believe that it was so Last evening however, came a startling disclosure—Hedden murdered!

Captain Dutcher was called to the Cedar Rapids House. He went Cora Clinton wished to see him When in her presence she said "Captain, I have something to tell you You would never think of it, but I shot Hedden"

This was, indeed, something to tell, it was a startling announcement! She said she had carefully thought over all the consequences knew she had to go to jail and probably to the gallows yet, with all that staring her in the face, she wanted to make the confession—tell the true story

In the jail, at 11 o clock the reporters met the unfortunate woman. "I make the confession that I killed Hedden" "Why did you do it?" "At his own request," was the reply "I went up stairs and found him, as I thought, dying He asked me to shoot him. He wanted this sin off his soul He took the pistol from his pocket, cocked it, and placed it in my hands He held open his coat and I pulled the trigger I thought there was more than one ball in the pistol, and intended with the other to kill myself" The prisoner, in her confession, says there was no malice She fired the pistol at his own request, and then intended self murder, but an empty pistol prevented her She was excited, and didn t think what she was doing

In brief, the above is a sad story It is to be remembered that Hedden bought three bottles of laudanum the night of his death, and upon his own confession, through the testimony of Cora Clinton, drank the same On Sunday evening Cora Clinton confesses that she took chloroform with intent to take her life And it is feared that she will, by some means, yet succeed There is scarcely a doubt that suicide has been determined upon in her mind, at all hazards

Who is Cora Clinton? We know not We are informed by Captain Durcher that she came from Madison, Wis was brought here by a man who seduced and deserted her Forsaken and in despair she found shelter in the notorious house of Lou Harpel. Shortly after her entrance there, fever brought her very near the grave For three long months she lingered, half dead, half alive. She afterward found a home (?) with Hester Baldwin From Hester Baldwin's house she has gone to the felon s cell There she is quiet and peculiar in her demeanor. She seems stoical in her feelings at times, and then the reverse She exhibits a phase of human nature seldom seen Some who saw her last evening thought insanity was presenting itself If it does not come, it will be a wonder. This ends our story

What are the Facts?

In the address of the Democratic members of Congress the following paragraph occurs.

"Nearly 200,000,000 acres of public lands which should have been reserved for the benefit of the people, have been voted away to giant corporations, neglecting our soldiers and enriching a handful of greedy speculators and lobbyists, who are enabled to exercise a dangerous and corrupting influence over [illegible] and federal legislation"

Now what are the facts? A recent letter from Washington furnishes them as follows

The grants made for Railroad [illegible] improvements while the Democracy had exclusive control of every branch of the Government, amounted to 33,677,213 acres Second, of the grants for such improvements since the Republicans attained power there have been granted to States—not to corporations—an estimated aggregate of 37,966,044 acres. Third, The grants to corporations, have been made to the three trans-continental lines only, as follows [illegible] To the Union and Central Pacific [illegible] 000 acres, Northern Pacific 47,000 000 [illegible] Pacific branch 11,000 000 Atlantic [illegible] Pacific (Southern) 20,000,000, Total 113,000,000, making the grants to corporations 87 000 000 of acres less than stated by these veracious Democratic Congressmen An examination of the record disclosed the fact, that in proportion to their numbers, the Democrats supported all these grants as strongly as the Republicans Besides it will be conceded by every person of ordinary intelligence, that the remaining acres of the public domain will be worth vastly more to the people with these roads constructed, than would the whole without these essential improvements. The fertile plains and exhaustless mineral resources of the interior were inaccessible and practically worthless to the masses of the people in the absence of these great national pathways So much for the first statement of the Democratic Congressmen, and now, as to the facts they failed to state, for to withhold or overstate the facts, is equally false, both in law and morals

They neglected to state, that when in the possession of power they passed a graduation act by which millions of acres of accessible and valuable public lands passed into the hands of "greedy speculators" at the nominal price of twelve and a half to twenty-five cents per acre, and that the Republicans promptly repealed that infamous statute.

They neglected to state, that when controlling every branch of the government, they passed the so-called swamp land statute, under which, more than 60,000,000 acres, much of which was, and is the best land in the older States, has become the property of "greedy speculators" at merely nominal prices.

They neglected to state that, for twenty years they had designedly in the interest of the slave master refused to adopt the Homestead principle, and, that the Republicans at their first regular session after their accession to power, passed the Homestead law which [illegible] continue in force

They neglected to state, that by Republican votes only were our soldiers supplied in the field, pensioned when disabled, and given a Homestead upon the public domain at the nominal cost of occupancy and cultivation.

They neglected to state, when speaking of corrupting "State and Federal legislation, that the very magnates of them had just closed a contract for the open purchase of the control of the legislature of the Empire State, demonstrating by a concurrent and conspicuous example, that this address is, in all its parts, but the silly dodge of the criminal who seizes the cry of "stop thief," to cover his own retreat

An Incident of the Fair Case—How the Jury Agreed —The San Jose Patriot of April 26th, contains the following

On the night of the day that the jury in the Mrs Fair case rendered a verdict, the case and the verdict were the subjects of animated discussion in all the saloons and other public places in San Francisco Two of the jurors in that case happened to be in one of those saloons, sitting quietly and unobserved in a corner, where the verdict was being discussed and the case commented on with much animation. After some time, one of these jurors arose and said "Gentlemen, my friend here and myself were two of the jurors in that case, and I will tell you how it was decided. During the progress of the trial not one juror had spoken to his fellow jurors of the case Not one had opened his lips to another in regard to the evidence or any arguments, it seemed to be a sealed subject to us all, and when we retired to make up a verdict, no one juror knew anything of the opinion of his fellow jurors On entering the jury room, the first thing done was to cut a piece of paper into twelve pieces, and to place a number on each piece from 1 up to 12 These were put in a hat and drawn, and the slip drawn was the number of the juror On these slips each juror wrote his findings in the case, and when his number was called put it into the hat When I wrote my finding, 'Murder in the first degree,' I hardly thought there would be another such finding on any of the slips, but when the slips were all deposited and taken out and read, to my great astonishment it was found that each juror, on the first and only ballot, had voted just as I had, 'Murder in the first degree'"

We obtained this incident last night from authority we consider reliable

There is joy in Pennsylvania and portions of Jersey. A Philadelphia paper thus explains "Fortunately for all of us who desire that the multitudinous seas which roll in and out of Delaware Bay shall not be incarnadined with the blood of the belligerent oystermen of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, Gov Randolph, of the latter State is a sensible man When he received the very courteous protest offered by Attorney General Brewster against the seizure of Philadelphia oyster smacks, caught trespassing in the waters of New Jersey he did not assume an air of defiance No, he issued an order, commanding the warriors at Maurice Cove to leave their oystering interests defenseless, and to sheathe their blades until what time the Courts can decide whether the claims of New Jersey are as good as her claims"

How to Catch Wild Geese —Bait them, at first, with wheat, barley or corn, after they have received this smiling introduction soak a lot of the grain over night in good spirituous liquors, with a little water and sugar added Spread this broadcast over the ground where great inducements have been held out heretofore Soon after the feast you can pass along and gather up the intemperate birds, and put them in the lock up for trial When drunk, they will roll up their eyes, and look about as foolish as what is called the 'human species,' when in the same dilemma Pigeons, quails and other birds can be caught in the same manner, and when they get fairly over their spree you may dress and eat them with impunity

The Healthiest Country in the World —De Bow's mortality statistics show that the people of the United States are the healthiest of the globe The deaths are 320,000 per year, or one and one third per cent of the population In England the ratio is over two per cent, and in France nearly three per cent Virginia and North Carolina are the healthiest of the States, and have 638 inhabitants over 100 years of age
